Acknowledgement of Professional Responsibilities in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police National Recruiting Program

As an applicant for the RCMP Regular Member Recruitment Process, you are expected to read and sign that you understand and pledge to hold yourself to the expectations and standards outlined in this document. You will be expected to respect and live by these expectations and standards during the application process, at the Cadet Training Program in Regina, Saskatchewan, and if you are eventually hired as a regular member of the RCMP.

This document will be retained on your applicant file and then your service file, if hired.

RCMP Core Values

The RCMP core values set the ethical behavior expectations to which the organization operates. You are expected to live and model these five values in your actions, conversations, your interactions, and how you carry out your duties should you be hired as an RCMP police officer. Aligning your words and actions with the core values ensures employees are contributing to a culture of respect in the workplace while delivering excellent policing services.

The RCMP Core Values are:

- Act with integrity
We conduct ourselves ethically and do so with honesty, dignity, and honour.
- Show respect
We treat all people with fairness. We value and promote reconciliation, diversity and inclusion by being considerate of the democratic rights, history and lived experiences of others.
- Demonstrate compassion
We care for each other and the communities we serve by approaching each situation with empathy and a genuine desire to help.
- Take responsibility
We are transparent about our decisions and actions, and hold ourselves accountable for the results and impacts.
- Serve with excellence
We commit to continuous learning, and work collaboratively with colleagues, communities, and partners to provide and support innovative and professional policing services.

The RCMP Organizational Values Statement defines our vision of a modern, inclusive and trusted national police service:

- We are your RCMP
We commit to keeping our workplaces and communities safe and to bringing out the best in ourselves. We put these words into action to strengthen our relationships and to earn trust and confidence by acting with integrity, showing respect, demonstrating compassion, taking responsibility, and serving with excellence.

RCMP Vision, Mission and Purpose

The RCMP Mission, Vision and Purpose outline our commitment to the communities that members serve and each other:

- Vision
Providing exceptional policing services to keep Canada safe and secure.
- Mission
To preserve the peace, uphold the law and provide quality service in partnership with our communities.
- Purpose
For over 150 years, the RCMP has been Canada's national police service. From coast-to-coast-to-coast, at the community, provincial/territorial and federal levels, as well as internationally, we strive to prevent crime, investigate offences, enforce the law, and ultimately keep Canada's population, and Canada's interest's safe and secure.

Values and Ethics

The RCMP has a primary mandate to enforce laws, prevent crime, and maintain peace, order and security. The RCMP is assisted in attaining its goal of a safe and secure Canada through the public's cooperation and assistance to prevent and solve crime. The public must be able to trust that police officers will carry out their duties honestly, fairly and impartially. As a police officer you will have a significant role in building and maintaining the public trust by upholding the highest ethical standards while performing your duties. These expectations regarding conduct will also apply to you while you are off duty.

All federal public servants are governed by the principles found in the Values and Ethics Code for the Public Sector which covers: respect for democracy, respect for people, integrity, stewardship and excellence.

Code of Conduct of the RCMP

Maintaining the confidence of Canadians in the RCMP is essential.

Members of the RCMP are responsible for the promotion and maintenance of good conduct in the Force.

The RCMP Code of Conduct sets out responsibilities consistent with section 37 of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Act, and are intended to guide your conduct and decision-making as a police officer to reinforce the high standard of conduct expected of members of the RCMP.

1. Application

- 1.1 This Code applies to every member of the Force and establishes the responsibilities and standard of conduct for members, on and off duty, in and outside Canada.

2. Respect and Courtesy

2.1 Members treat every person with respect and courtesy and do not engage in discrimination or harassment.

3. Respect for the Law and the Administration of Justice

3.1 Members respect the law and the rights of all individuals.

3.2 Members act with integrity, fairness and impartiality, and do not compromise or abuse their authority, power or position.

3.3 Members give and carry out lawful orders and direction.

4. Duties and Responsibilities

4.1 Members report for and remain on duty unless otherwise authorized.

4.2 Members are diligent in the performance of their duties and the carrying out of their responsibilities, including taking appropriate action to aid any person who is exposed to potential, imminent or actual danger.

4.3 Members on duty are fit to perform their duties and carry out their responsibilities and are not impaired by drugs, alcohol or other substances.

4.4 Members properly account for, and do not alter, conceal or destroy, without lawful excuse, any property, money or documents coming into their possession in the performance of their duties.

4.5 Members are properly dressed and equipped and maintain their personal appearance, in accordance with applicable Force policies.

7. Discreditable Conduct

7.1 Members behave in a manner that is not likely to discredit the Force.

8. Reporting

8.1 Members provide complete, accurate and timely accounts pertaining to the carrying out of their responsibilities, the performance of their duties, the conduct of investigations, the actions of other employees and the operation and administration of the Force.

8.2 Members who are under investigation, arrested, charged, or convicted for a breach of any Canadian or foreign law report this fact to a supervisor as soon as feasible.

8.3 Members, unless exempted by the Commissioner, take appropriate action if the conduct of another member contravenes this Code and report the contravention as soon as feasible.

9. Confidentiality and Public Statement

9.1 Members access, use and disclose information obtained in their capacity as members only in the proper course of their duties and abide by all oaths by which they are bound as members.

9.2 Members abide by their duty of loyalty and refrain from making public statements criticizing the Government of Canada or the operations or administration of the Force, except where authorized by law.

10. Political Activity

10.1 Members engaging in political activities abide by any applicable rules and government and Force policies.

Other Activity

Finally, expectations regarding conduct are also outlined in various policies and directives, and particularly important are those governing the public and private lives of members that may create a conflict of interest between your private interests and duties. Some of these situations include the use of government property, accepting or giving of gifts, avoidance of preferential treatment, workplace relationships, private assets or liabilities, and outside employment. As a police officer in the RCMP, you are expected to report or discuss certain private activities with your supervisors to assure that these activities do not place you or the RCMP at risk in terms of a conflict of interest and impartiality.
